Concrete Construction Safety and Insurance Decorative Concrete Polished Concrete

Position Statements – 46 papers covering topics such as “Moisture-Sensitive Floor Coverings on Concrete Slabs,” “Birdbaths,” “Tolerances,” and “Trowel Marks.” The statements are written for architects, engineers and others who need to understand the contractor’s point of view. There are eight Position Statements on decorative concrete topics and five on concrete polishing.

Contractor E-mail Forum – Contractors submit and answer business and technical questions via e-mail. Invaluable advice from your peers on everything from curling to sealers to time sheets to vehicle use. ASCC members-only, Web-based archive contains all Q & A from the Forum for easy reference.

A Guide to Selecting a Concrete Contractor – Provides the small to medium-sized contractor a checklist of items such as references, drawings, safety practices, insurance coverage, etc., that allows potential customers to compare what your company offers with the competition. This simple brochure emphasizes that contractor selection should be determined by pre-planning, experience, quality of work and track record, not just price. One copy FREE to members.

SAFETY

Safety Manual – This comprehensive manual written by concrete contractors for concrete contractors can be used as your basic safety program. Provided electronically, you can customize and print as needed for your company. First file provided FREE to ASCC members. Extra copies are available on flash drive or downloadable file to members for $25.00 each ($75.00 each for non-members)

Safety Resources – These are selected and reviewed by the ASCC Safety & Risk Management Council. The first copy is FREE to ASCC members.

EDUCATION

Webinars – 45-minute monthly webinars provide members access to speakers and topics from the comfort of their offices. A mix of business and technical topics have included Hardhats to Helmets, Shoring/Re-shoring, Protecting Yourself from Slab Performance Callbacks, Accuracy and Productivity in Estimating, Approaching Business as a Process, Decorative Concrete Applications and Finishes, and Managing Change Orders. Webinars are archived on the website for members only.

Magazine Subscriptions – Free subscriptions to Concrete International and Concrete Contractor keep you and key personnel current with concrete construction technology and business issues.

NETWORKING

Networking – Annual events, committee meetings, and other special opportunities provide members the opportunity to mix and meet with other outstanding contractors and suppliers. Working committees include Technical, Education & Training, Finishing, Paving, Emerging Leaders, Membership, Constructability and more.

INSURANCE

ASCC partners with Liberty Mutual Insurance to offer a board array of construction products and risk control services. Current, as well as new, Liberty Mutual customers are able to take advantage of this collaboration.

ANNUAL EVENTS

Annual Conference – This fall event brings together owners and managers, project foremen and superintendents, estimators, safety directors, and other company managers for seminars, roundtable discussions, demonstrations, valuable networking and social outings. Event features the ASCC Safety and Decorative Concrete Awards ceremony.

Concrete Executive Leadership Forum – A unique opportunity each summer to exchange ideas, learn new management and leadership techniques and develop friendships with CEOs, owners and managers from the country's leading concrete construction companies.

World of Concrete – ASCC takes advantage of the major concrete event to host its Annual Meeting, committee meetings, a pre-show party, and other networking opportunities. We host two booths and are a co-sponsor of the convention. ASCC members are notable speakers for WOC seminars.

SPECIALTY COUNCILS

Decorative Concrete Council – The DCC educates contractors on the technical and business aspects of decorative concrete contracting. The Council also promotes decorative concrete to designers, owners and other end users.
